DEPARTMENT OF BOTANY

Established in 1968, the Department of Botany is a centre of excellence in plant science, biodiversity conservation, and environmental education. Through quality teaching, research, field-based learning, biodiversity documentation, conservation initiatives, and extension programmes, the department nurtures scientifically competent and environmentally responsible citizens committed to sustainable development and the harmonious coexistence of nature and society.

ABOUT MYRISTICA

Myristica – The Students' Ecological Fiesta is a state-level ecological festival organized by the Department of Botany, Farook College, Kozhikode. Conceived in 2017 by Jithin Vijayan, a first-year B.Sc. Botany student, and developed with the support of his classmates, the festival was launched during the United Nations Decade on Biodiversity (2011–2020). After four successful student-led editions (2017–2020), Myristica – Season 5 returns on 18–19 August 2026.

The festival is named after Myristica malabarica (Malabar Nutmeg), a vulnerable tree species threatened by habitat loss. Myristica is Kerala's only ecological festival, and one of only two initiatives from South India featured on the UN Convention on Biological Diversity (CBD) Global Action Map. Its success has also been recognized by the Ministry of Environment, Forest and Climate Change (MoEFCC), Government of India.
